Sunday, December 21, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

My dear sister,

"Rest assured about me; remain serene about all this. All my sufferings are finally over; only the last formalities have yet to be performed and thus will all be well. Another life is starting through which very careful monitoring will be conducted over the Mission and over my successor, for whom nothing will be easy. But he will prevail and he will contribute the complementary touch to that which exists already, with a view to perfecting the sacred edifice of a spiritual way driven by the higher powers.

"All our brothers and sisters should look to the future with confidence. My action continues here where I am granted a broader vision that makes things easier. Rejoining my divine Grand Master is true happiness; he is astoundingly beautiful and his greatness dazzles me.

"May all be at peace: all is well for me. This well-deserved rest, as per our Beloved Babuji's words, allows me to be reunited with him and to henceforth work beside him, for my greatest happiness. Does everything not have its raison d'être! It is possible to witness it here more than elsewhere; all is well like that. Be happy for the release of your Master, he has regained serenity and his love for the whole Mission is all the greater.

"To all the brothers and sisters the best of his support and undying love. Special blessings on all of this dearest Mission and all its faithful abhyasis.

"A great deal of love from their Master, Parthasarathi."

Parthasarathi