Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, December 29, 2014 — 8:00 a.m.

Our dear and great son is perfectly settled once more in the world of the Spirit; here he has resumed his place and viewed the retrospective of his previous lives. There are a great many of them, as is the case for all of us. This retrospective allows him to take stock of a long cycle of reincarnations, each one contributing to the sacred edifice of the Divine. He has a great many duties ahead, but his priority will be to remain connected to the beautiful and great Sahaj Marg Mission. This Mission will be the hallmark of times to come, as its role in the world expands further and further in the future.

"We expect from all our functionaries and all our brothers and sisters a profound and sincere commitment to contribute fully to a planned expansion — one that is so important to humanity, whose current distress on so many levels is saddening. Here, everything is being done for the good, so that humanity will evolve and truly elevate itself in order to achieve the best. It's all so slow here below; we cannot change this pace, but we should be able to motivate our brothers and sisters. We have been following them for such a long time; to some great servants of the Sahaj Marg Mission, we express our gratitude — greatly. Their lives will not have been useless, far from it. One day they will be able to assess the impact their lives have had. All of them are working out of love for us, and we give it back to them a hundredfold. May they forge ahead, being fully committed to an extraordinary journey which they will not regret; in this process nothing is in vain or illusory. May all our brothers and sisters meet and fulfil our expectations as best as possible. The best to you all, under our constant blessings."
