As I have already said, even equipped with exceptional powers, we cannot infringe and rush the divine plans. There are devastating wars, monstrous events of all sorts, which we cannot avoid. We must remain within our limits: the divine law must be respected. You see only what cannot be stopped, but you have no idea of what is being achieved in the darkness and of which you are spared.

"There is no rest for the chosen ones, ever, at any level. You should know that on this planet, as on the others, the divine laws are relentless. That's how things must be for the balance of the universe. Earthmen are troublemakers and dangerous elements. They endanger this order established so well, and must, alas, receive lessons in the sense of their harvesting what they sowed. Beside hatred and violence, which reaches its paroxysm, the universal harmony is endangered by the irrational inventions made by individuals believing they hold all the knowledge of the world.

"The Earth is in danger because excesses prevail at all levels. The law of boomerang will have to be put into action to calm down this diabolic play.

"My dear children, you should be moderating and luminous elements, in this completely mad system. We bless and inspire you in all circumstances."
