Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 21, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages are given to be known to all, except for rare personal messages. They are captured, and have been for a long time, to bring a complementary teaching to what already exists, and they constitute a precious asset for our Mission. Our dear and great Parthasarathi appreciated them greatly. They helped him in this uncommon journey of a spiritual Master. Although a spiritual Master is supported by all of us here, the load is heavy and it can be difficult in some circumstances. Parthasarathi is keeping watch and from now on supports his successor, as we have always done for him.

The Mission is growing, as is the burden of those in charge. In the future it will have to be structured differently in order to achieve a worldwide cohesion, linked to the central point – this point represented at the material and spiritual levels by the power of the incarnate Master, who holds our powers of action and is supported by our love. This love is an exceedingly rare energy. It generates the best when taken in and redistributed, as is the case here, for the benefit of the whole Mission. Nothing is insignificant in such an approach. Valuable time is saved for the abhyasi, involved in this extraordinary process that has not yet revealed all its possibilities. These possibilities conform to the evolutionary level of today's world, still prey to regrettable limitations. Let us continue to work for the best; seeing all our aspirants advancing is the most beautiful achievement for all of us – we who are so concerned about the welfare of all our brothers and sisters. We wish the best to all.
