Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, January 31, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages comprise a long journey that is not commonplace. In this area, channelling alone does not suffice; commitment of the heart and righteousness prevail. The vibrational charge of these texts is unprecedented. It wins over the reader in the most subtle depth of his or her being. After all this time we can measure the effects, and the results are very positive; thus is accomplished that which should be.

"Being a preceptor is not a trivial matter. The commitment towards the Master and the entire hierarchy is to be considered before all else. Changes must sometimes be made in order to meet the needs of the moment. We appreciate the steadfastness and the work being performed by the majority of our brothers and sisters in their respective responsibilities. A spiritual path like ours, because of its constant expansion, must be managed at all levels by abhyasis who are truly committed to the Master, as honestly as possible. Most of our senior brothers and sisters have done their best, while managing to control egos that can sometimes be devastating; there are examples to support these comments. Nothing is ever perfect, but so many of our functionaries who are fully committed do behave correctly, with faith and with respect for the living Master and the hierarchy that is attentive and active in its own manner.

"We wish the best to all. They are carried and supported, according to their call, by our constant blessings."
