Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, February 11, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages have importance in our Mission, and their importance will increase. In the context of the current state of knowledge, they are an extraordinary teaching. All sacred texts of the past have emanated from the same sources, and so will it always be in this world of matter — a world that is linked to higher powers whose means are poorly understood by human beings. Words generate a vibration, one that touches the sensitive points of human beings, allowing each one to advance in the knowledge that is most appropriate for his or her personal evolution. Everything has its raison d'être. Human beings must feed their physical bodies, but they must also feed their spirits in proportion to their deepest aspirations. Sooner or later these aspirations reveal themselves and prevail in one's life, leading the being to a knowledge that can nourish and embellish the soul.

"This journey is endless, and the laws of life and evolution specify its details in a precise manner. Let us repeat: everything has its raison d'être here below and elsewhere. The laws of life are very strict; they emanate from powers capable of maintaining a specific order, despite the numerous disturbances that disrupt the best devised plans. Absolute perfection does not exist, and this world would be boring if such were the case. The Mission of Sahaj Marg is doing its best, while expanding and winning over hearts in its own manner for the welfare of one and all — such is the goal. Time consolidates the effects of this extraordinary transmission, as desired for the welfare of suffering humanity. Only spirituality can help it overcome and transcend matter.

"Blessings to all."
