Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, February 13, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This long, painful journey, so well hidden from human eyes, has served our cause masterfully. For our part, we do know and appreciate this rigour; it alone could generate such a flawless, entirely exceptional work. It is worth emphasising once more – do not be embarrassed, it is as it is.

Our dear Kamlesh is entering into his role as needed; nothing is ever simple in such a process; he is well surrounded, which should help him in the long term. He must make a few changes to facilitate the work – his own, and that of the functionaries and preceptors. The commitment by all of them is commendable; may each of them be well aware of the importance of their work. The Mission is a whole; what is being accomplished weaves the cloth of this path in full expansion, as intended by the higher powers and corresponding to present-day life. It lays solid foundations for an unprecedented action capable of helping this humanity in distress – far more distress than is apparent, the effects of which will leave damaging traces.

Many human beings are losing touch with reality. They live in an illusory world without even realising it. Reality, the essential, escapes them. Most of our committed abhyasis manage to set aside moments of contact and fruitful practice, providing a certain balance in their lives. These thousands of messages are intended to help them. Each one benefits from them in his or her own manner, depending on how they receive them. May all become truly aware of the importance of their practice and measure the effects as best as possible; they will not be disappointed. Blessings to all.
