Sunday, August 1, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

(In response to a question about this issue.)

The Medium: "Babuji, have I understood well?"

Had I ever misled you?"

The Medium: "Do you want to test me?"

"Alas not, there will be a severe backlash on this issue, when time comes!

"Going to the moon to cause an explosion just to see...! It is dramatic for the forms of life that exist there. Your fellow men, when they have to undergo the consequences thereof, they will be able to meditate on this aspect of things before calling it injustice and putting the blame on the Divine. Don't forget that the first cosmonauts were saved by extraterrestrials, as you call them. It was a warning. Man, stubborn, self-important, has not managed to draw the lessons from that act. He destroys knowingly to carry out experiments. May this great fear currently prevailing make you reflect and may it be salutary for you all.

"If J.M. reacts well to the previous message, it is a good sign that he is advancing. One day, he will perhaps understand that a stay at Manapakkam would have been more salutary to him than a tourist tour. If he believed in me, the truth would have been obvious to his mind and he would have taken my advice.

"What else can be done? We cannot help him in spite of himself. He has not done all that I have requested from this boy. This is an example of the difficulty we face with you all, and with some of you in particular. Don't be worried for him. He is endearing; we will follow him until the end.

"The human being prefers to follow roundabout paths, he loves to stroll, explore outside his most direct and surest lifeline. Even if he is fortunate to be advised by an inspired Master, he often prefers to follow his own idea and he creates unpleasant experiences which were not essential to his progress: that is the way it goes. We will not revert any more to the issue and we will not give any more this kind of advice. You, my daughter, go on your way. It is an aspect where we cannot blame you. You follow to the letter what we ask you and that is not new; you do trust us.

"We will resume later, you should rest."

Babuji