Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, March 17, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Such a love story will remain throughout time and leave its mark on our Mission; nothing here is done in vain. The past will hold it in its memory and the future awaits it; the present ensures that it is given its appropriate place. Many of our brothers and sisters are nourished by these writings, hence our persistence in giving them. Following a spiritual path is not insignificant. What is it that remains positive in an incarnation: deeds, gestures, thoughts – which are also acts – everything in this story is to be taken into account.

To follow such a path opens up perspectives and marks this journey in a positive way. Setting aside a little time to practice is an important act and constitutes a true asset on this human journey. The heart has its reasons; human beings do not always understand them. The soul yearns for the Divine; such spiritual nourishment fulfils the soul, which delights in it willingly. Human beings follow their path without really understanding the why of situations. These situations are elements that are added to the story of a life, which is determined by a strict karma exceeding human comprehension.

Such is the power of the Spirit in its manifestation – how could human beings understand all of its subtlety. Each one does his or her best with the physical and moral means available to them. Nothing is in vain and everything is counted; we have said it often enough. May the best emerge from each one and produce the anticipated results.

Practice, repeated each day, constitutes a true asset from which our abhyasis never cease to benefit.

To all, the best.
