My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 1, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Here we have the privilege of going far beyond the world of matter, allowing us to see the Mission's trajectory in the time and places that will characterise it. All spiritual ways of the past have built structures on Earth that strike the imagination of humans. This is required and essential in order to truly establish in this world what would otherwise remain impalpable and less representative of a current of thought — even if its action alone is able to defy time and help humanity beyond human perception. The past sufficiently demonstrates this aspect; the action of the Mission of Sahaj Marg is expanding on this Earth as has long been anticipated.

"Is it not said that what must be shall be? To the extent possible, everything is done in the Mission to help our committed brothers and sisters go further, and to help them grow. All our actions go in this direction, even if they are not always understood as they should be. It does not matter; time always clarifies things when they are geared towards the good. We are very attentive to the Mission, which is truly taking flight in order to reach the highest level. It is endowed with a competent Master who can permanently establish on Earth the sacred edifice of this way of the heart. We cannot help but support him strongly and in every respect; nothing is ever simple, but what is done for the good can only prevail and defy time, since such action is supported by the sacred elite that inspires the different movements that are essential for such goodness to develop.

"Blessings to all."

Babuji Maharaj