Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, April 13, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

The alliance of Masters greatly appreciates the heavenly manna constituting this collection of messages. These writings are authentic, inspired by the Hierarchy and intended to help the largest number of hearts in need. Here, we see beings in their reality; there are many who are nourished by these writings, which have taken a prominent place in our Mission. This spiritual path has many strengths. Each of our abhyasis finds in it what they aspire to; even if they are not really aware of it, a work takes place in them, subtle and productive. This method is adapted to the current era; it fits perfectly into everyday life and does not require a demanding ritual. The heart, seat of the soul, holds the secrets – the real ones. How can the seeker imagine such effectiveness amid the apparent complexity of this work!

This way is much more effective than it seems. The future will reveal its effects when this world passes to a higher stage of its evolution. The slowness of phenomena characterises it, but this is how it is. So much good is unfolding there despite the incessant turbulences, which are difficult to ascertain and unavoidable in the current era. Future times will bring many answers to those who are searching. They will be amazed by the reality of the facts and will more easily access the truth. This world as a whole also has its own evolution; all have their own, that which distinguishes them from one another on their heavenly journey. The human being is infinitely small compared to the whole of creation, but this particle of life has its importance, hence our action – one that is continuous, even if it is not perceived. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être!
