Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, May 2, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

These celebration days leave a calming reassurance in people's hearts; whether perceived or not, our action contributes to this and influences these special moments. Very subtle vibrations emerge that are generated in part by the state of recollection, as well as by the commitment of each one and by certain very special blessings that crown everything. May our abhyasis truly become aware of the importance of these anniversaries, which stand as very specific milestones on one's journey towards the divine realms.

"Our expectations for this very special spiritual path are great, and they will not disappoint us. The establishment of our way is now solid and its effects are striking and real. So is it desired by the higher powers. The new era will fully benefit from this. Minds will open up more and more to this higher reality; it cannot be humanly defined, but it will be increasingly felt by hearts that are receptive to its greatness. Each of our abhyasis is pursuing his or her path; thus is each one's karma fulfilled. A spiritual commitment like this promotes [the fulfilment of karma] in its sacred essence and opens up new perspectives for it. Over time, the results obtained in this way of the heart are reassuring; no effort is futile. 'Doesn't everything have its raison d'être?' May each of our brothers and sisters achieve the best, through a lasting commitment that is satisfactory in every respect. We are seeing to it; each one receives according to his or her yearning.

"Blessings to all."
