Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 6, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This journey comprised of messages is long, and it is effective in the way it impacts people's hearts. We have said this many a time, and Parthasarathi also pointed it out: this matter is unprecedented. The path of Sahaj Marg is rich in benefits. Its action will be substantial over time and very important in the future when so many changes will occur in this world. Our teaching will remain a reference, a benefit for hearts in need. There are many of them; many beings are searching and do not find their way, one that could answer their call. Blessed are those who have found it and who take advantage of its gifts. The aspirant does not necessarily realise the importance of such an approach and what it can offer. Every step taken is a milestone on one's evolutionary path, the most important path there is since it leads to the supreme goal — one's connection with the Divine.

"What is left of a lifetime, save for what can lead the being to his or her highest destiny. Everything passes, many events and deeds are lost in time, without even leaving memories or traces. Growing and advancing towards the goal is not futile; meeting again with the Masters beyond an incarnation is a very precious benefit. All these Great Beings of the past are united in their action to support the current Master who is caught in the bustle of material life and must manage his heavy task. He is advancing, becoming immersed in the greatness of his role, and his action will be exemplary. We are happy for that. This Mission is dear to all, including the fervent abhyasis who have rejoined us and are pursuing their path here.

"To all, the best possible."
