Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, May 29, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This pencil comes alive each day, according to our wishes, which still surprises you after so many years. Such an occurrence is not commonplace; it is inspired by an unprecedented love story. It seems some 'messages' are being noted down elsewhere; they are not from us. Imitators exist in this area too, and it is good to clarify this once again. Over time, our messages will remain a reference for the Mission of Sahaj Marg. This world of illusions requires a certain vigilance with respect to this; searching for one's way and finding it is a grace. This grace allows one to establish oneself on an extraordinary journey through which the best can take place for the benefit of the abhyasi. It takes time for a human being to understand the true purpose of life; having arrived at this stage, one can truly be committed. Certain experiences are sometimes necessary in order to better choose the path — that which corresponds to the real aspirations of the soul. The stages to cross are numerous; perseverance and action facilitate this journey. It is not in vain, and everything is counted with the utmost rigour. Perfection does not exist here below, but good will can achieve great things; we can happily see this over time.

"May all do their best under the guidance of our dearest Kamlesh, who is vested with our powers and is your new Master. Although he does not yet refer to himself as such, he has nevertheless become the Master, chosen according to the will of higher powers. This is how it is. Blessings to all."
