Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, June 2, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything repeats itself endlessly in this world, and these writings are no exception to the rule; we return to certain topics, and this quite insistently, simply for the good of all. Our abhyasis, like all human beings, must each face up to their own destiny. We cannot change it, but only make sure they view it differently and are able to make the best of it. Spiritual practice awakens consciousness and allows a person to better delineate that which is important for personal growth. A lifetime is short; in our way, everyone is offered the opportunity to progress, to act upon the subtle being, which is their true personality. This personality is revealed over time and is the result of past lives and experiences that leave traces during this long journey towards the ultimate goal. It takes time to awaken consciousness, to allow each one to express his or her best, thereby promoting this extraordinary approach that is capable of revealing what is essential in one's self. We can now see the results of this exceptional work that is taking place in our way; it is very positive, and this is quite encouraging.

"A new era is coming, and humans will have to adapt as they have always done in the past. Evolution on this Earth must go through phases of great change in order to better pursue its progress. Our abhyasis can rest assured — they will not experience the terror of hell as is assumed in some schools of thought. We prefer to encourage them to steadfastly practice in order to advance and thus divest themselves of all unnecessary elements that hinder their progress.

"To all, our special encouragement and blessings."
