Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, June 6, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Destiny is inescapable; everyone can see this and must make do with their lot. The road is long, and trials are both formative and indispensable for human evolution. It is not always easy to accept them, but nonetheless wisdom allows one to recognise that they are necessary in each person's life. This journey on Earth has no other purpose than to train human beings and help them cope with adversity, allowing them to understand the laws of karma and grow stronger in the face of them. Following a spiritual path enables one to clarify the meaning of things, to better accept tests and even turn them into a strength, an advantage for better managing what life has in store. Evolution driven by such a process is valuable – it saves precious time. From one lifetime to another, faith in this higher power is strengthened when cultivated by a real commitment.

Sahaj Marg brings together great and beautiful souls that meet again after many incarnations in other times and places. Similar situations recur and reunite beings who have already gone a long way together. Thus, from one lifetime to another, stories and events develop that are not insignificant when it comes to working towards the good. Happy the hearts that are pure and sincere in their commitment; thus the effects of grace are multiplied in each one's journey. The story of life is both one and multiple, and its complexity would astonish ordinary people. For seekers, surrendering before this power remains more necessary than ever, to strengthen them on their personal path.

Blessings to all.
