Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, June 19, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

May all the love possible spread over the Earth and transform this world. It is in such distress, particularly in certain parts of this planet. All cannot be resolved as we would wish. One must comply with the laws that govern this Earth.

Ashrams are sacred places where our ceaseless action is carried out. This cannot be measured, but it goes well beyond routine events and operates in more than one way. The power of divine energy manifests where and when needed, far from human reasonings and for good reasons. To follow a spiritual path is to act not only for the present but also for the future, by preparing it according to current concepts and with a view to a subsequent reincarnation. How many questions arise on this aspect of life: birth, rebirth, and the continuation of a path already begun, and in other lives, other places, where karma finds its justification in an action appropriate to the divine designs.

Everything has its raison d'être and is so precise in the wheel of karma, where subtlety goes well beyond human reasoning. Surrender attracts grace; this grace is the best asset available to a heart eager to love, to progress towards the divine source, whose salutary effects cannot run dry. May more and more beautiful souls unite in this uncommon journey and follow in the footsteps of the assembled Masters who constitute the very special strength of this sacred union. Time forges beautiful and great stories; that of Sahaj Marg is being built slowly but with strength to help the greatest number of brothers and sisters longing for a spiritual path that is out of the ordinary. May all be guided and enlightened according to their inclination.

Endless blessings.
