Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, July 6, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This long journey comprised of messages has touched many souls that are sensitive not only to our comments, but also to the vibration they emit. Why would these messages have been given, and for such a long time, if they did not hold a real interest for the reader. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être in our way? Many mysteries will persist, which only time will reveal, and this is for good reason. Our dear son Kamlesh is a fighter and an innovator; it had to be so due to the expansion of a spiritual way suited to the present and holding many surprises for when the time is right. We cannot anticipate events; what matters is that our brothers and sisters should be truly committed and take advantage of that which is offered to them for their highest good, even if they do not fully realise it. That doesn't matter — our action is effective, and you can be sure that it benefits one and all. This is a system where great displays are not needed; thousands of abhyasis can gather in silence and all can fully enjoy a particular transmission that is beneficial beyond human appreciation.

"We focus on what is essential. You all can be sure that these words are not in vain. When the time for assessment comes, everyone will be able to confirm this and appreciate what these many years of personal commitment have afforded them. We want the best for all. The Mission is expanding across the world; there is a need to adapt and find the best possible means to achieve maximum efficiency in order to meet the needs of all. To advance in the footsteps of the living spiritual Master is a grace — may all truly become aware of it and, above all, not waste time.

"Special blessings from the entire hierarchy, which is attentive to the Mission."
