Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 16, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Always faithful to this rendezvous of the heart, our words are aligned here on paper with a view to touching the hearts of our brothers and sisters. Never mind repetitions; they are, in their own way, necessary to all. Life is a perpetual new beginning. What may sometimes seem tedious is in fact an absolute necessity. Following a spiritual path is not always easy. It involves a physical and moral commitment, but you can be sure the results are worth the effort. The life of a Master is not easy either. Imagine what it can be – from waking to sleeping; obligations are there, far beyond what our brothers and sisters can imagine. The involvement is great, much more than he himself realises. His action goes beyond the material world; many souls are calling and do not stray from the spheres where his action is perceivable.

Many mysteries remain hidden from the eyes of humans. This world of illusions conceals so many truths essential to life as a whole. In the current era, not everything can be revealed. A time will come, after many changes here below, when a more realistic approach to phenomena will emerge. Evolution is slow. However it may seem, there is still a long way to go before the fundamental truth can be revealed. Everything in its time. Humankind is evolving very slowly, more slowly than we would like. But that is how it is, our dearest brothers and sisters. To all, the best.

Babuji