Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, July 28, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This long process of delivering messages will need to be brought to a close – hasn't everything been said? And yet this ceaseless stream of love emanating from your heart, dear scribe, calls us and produces these lines. They touch many loving beings, thus creating unique bonds in our way of the heart, a way whose very discrete effects transform abhyasis almost without their knowledge, one might say. The effect produced by these messages goes far beyond a simple reading; their vibration operates in a special way. All receive them in their own way, according to their own sensitivity, and are nourished by them in the best way possible. Nothing is done in this Mission without reason. This edifice was built little by little to reach this point of impact where its power of action and development will continue to amaze.

Changes are in the offing, not only on Earth but elsewhere as well. Everything that lives in this world will have to adapt to new and subtler vibrations that will most certainly be destabilising for beings who have no access to a higher vibratory space. Life is what it is, and all must comply with it. Progressing towards the Ultimate is a major and decisive advantage in each person's evolution. We are working as best we can so that the plenitude of the Spirit prevails here below – where so much suffering and ugliness are inflicted upon the multitude who are calling for the benefits of a constructive spiritual transmission capable of transforming this material world. We are working towards it in our own manner.

Blessings to all.
