Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 30, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Be at peace; relish these unique moments when we can communicate like this. Do you truly realise the grace it represents! There is no deception here; we are truly giving you these messages. They are not ordinary, you can be sure. They carry our energies much more than it may seem, and they accomplish in our readers' hearts the work necessary for this delightful osmosis with ours. Time will give the messages all due importance – this has been the case throughout history, when teachings emanating from a divine source have taken on considerable importance and become the foundations of various spiritual movements. We want what is good for our abhyasis. Such means have always been given to the great Masters of the past; here they differ a little, but the results are the same. From these writings emanate the teachings and energy of the united Masters, who have all been in favour of this unprecedented transmission for a long time. The current Master benefits from them, as did his predecessor, with gratitude. Our dear, great Parthasarathi, in his wisdom, recognised in these messages a necessary complement to what already existed. Time clarifies things and always gives importance to what is appropriate here below. These writings have already helped a great deal and will continue to do so, you can be sure. The way of Sahaj Marg will prevail over time, for good reason, and this makes us happy here – we who have been doing our best for the good of all.

Endless blessings.
