Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 5, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Can you imagine the positive impact these messages have had in people's hearts – it is invaluable. Over time, they have nourished hearts, and in a certain way they carry them on this long road of life that spares no one. Trials are there and unavoidable. Only the spiritual heart can protect itself and grow stronger through this very special transmission. It cannot be assessed in human terms; its subtlety operates on the sensitive points of the being, imperceptibly but effectively. Real work is carried out on this path, the heart being its central axis; it has multiple functions, some of which are not yet recognised. A day will come when they will be recognised, bringing other perspectives of life into the lives of all.

Evolution on this Earth is slow; it moves forward at its own pace, and we cannot change anything about it. Placing emphasis on a key point related to spirituality, namely its multiple as yet unrecognised resources, helps one better grasp the complexity of this organ that holds so many powers. Science is advancing in its discovery. The day it reaches the truth will be decisive in human evolution. Divine energy is at the centre of each cell of that organ. There lies reality. Our way focuses its action on that hidden treasure, still priceless today in human terms. Let us remain focussed on what concerns us here – the work being done in Sahaj Marg; it is unique, you can be sure.

Special blessings to all.
