Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, August 23, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This contact is and will remain the same in its intensity and in the love it generates throughout the Mission. Over the course of time we have often repeated ourselves, and for good reason. The heart calls for this very special vibration that distinguishes this contact from other moments of practice. Our ceaseless love finds therein its full significance: it is great to unite the seekers in this particular context. We want the best for all, in accordance with their needs and each one's genuine request – we are always attentive to this call. May all be blessed and enlightened on this path of life where nothing is simple but is rewarding for the hearts that are yearning to love.

Blessings to all.
