Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 25, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Time will lend considerable importance to this Sahaj Marg Mission. The Mission will provide a great deal to beings in search of a true spiritual system, one that is devoid of external displays, but very active in terms of its effects. Moreover, this way is not forgotten by the preceding Masters; they give to the entire Mission very special care that is out of the ordinary. Wanting the best is one thing; achieving it is a rare blessing. Do our dear abhyasis realise the importance of their process? The triviality of this material world hides reality from them. No matter. They are committed and advancing at their own pace, and nothing is lost, you can be sure. In addition to the practice, there are sufficient arguments to convince them of the correctness of this approach.

"To all, we wish peace and love on this path where nothing is lost and where everything has a meaning, especially in this way of the heart. Blessings to all."
