Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 27, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything in its own time. The development of the Sahaj Marg Mission has long been planned; it is taking flight over the course of years. Each year contributes to this sacred edifice. It is not yet recognised as such but continues its uplifting path for all beings who are following it with faith and determination. The great paths of today also began very modestly. Sahaj Marg corresponds to the current era, and it will find its full blossoming more and more in the future. Unity is strength — this should not be forgotten. Dissension weakens this system and is harmful to all. The truth always prevails in the end. May good sense and love for the previous Master of this way reinforce the action of the current Master, who is carried and supported in his actions by the entire hierarchy.

"May the best be accomplished and allow the expansion of this Mission for the welfare of the greatest number."
