Whispers from The Brighter World

See the impact of these messages in people's hearts; from here we can really evaluate its scope. This emanation from the heart of the Masters operates on the hearts of each of our brothers and sisters. Whether they are aware of it or not, all receive this vibration and are nourished by it at a subtle level. Sahaj Marg has more than one resource, and the human being will become more and more refined, until he or she reaches another level of consciousness. This method is given for good reasons. Even if these reasons are not obvious, you can all be sure they are operating. In this period of major vibratory disorder, it is good to be able to reconnect to 'reality', that which is targeted in this system for the general good. It is not easy for humans to assess the prevailing negativity of these troubled times; they cannot truly realise the dangers produced by modern means of communication, even though such means are admittedly very practical. All of this has a cost, but that is how it is. We cannot change the present life; a time will come for that, and divine wisdom will provide for it."
