Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, September 14, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

My dear son,

"The Sahaj Marg Mission is being called upon to expand in an unprecedented manner. It will have to adapt in order to bring to our aspirants that which is suitable for each one. A new organisation is being established for the good of all; such is life in its most unexpected and surprising twists and turns. What matters is the impact of this method on hearts that are longing for true spiritual progress. Nothing is gained without a minimum of commitment. The practice is not demanding, but it should be complied with as much as possible. We want the best for all. The results in some of our aspirants go beyond our expectations. Sahaj Marg in its rather unusual method is more productive than it may appear. Time gives it even more power; its aura is growing in accordance with the divine plans. You can all be sure that nothing is insignificant and everything has its raison d'être; the future can only confirm these comments.

"Best wishes for a total commitment on the part of the largest number of our brothers and sisters — and for you, dearest Kamlesh, the best possible, under our ceaseless blessings."
