Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, September 24, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything has been said, so it seems, and yet many abhyasis are still calling us and being nourished by these lines. This ritual has its raison d'être, you can all be sure. Beyond these lines, [the messages] connect many ardent hearts that are steadfast in this uncommon process. Time will give it an importance that none of you can imagine today. Thus is history written. Sahaj Marg is not as simple as it seems. In its own manner, it holds a power of action intended by the higher authorities — those who work in this domain for the benefit of beings who are truly eager to advance towards the ultimate goal. Repetition is needed in everything; it is worth recalling that the spirit feeds on what is suitable for it and assimilates it in its own manner.

"All human beings have this potential, but far too many of them neglect it, as they are caught in the pervading negativity of this world and the movement of the days. Nevertheless, our action continues. A time will come when it will be obvious to all, as the majority of people will perceive that it is part of a planned and necessary evolution for humankind. Slowly and in his or her own manner, each one is advancing towards the goal. Regarding this way of the heart, the results are very satisfactory — why not say it and repeat it. This is how it is. May the entire Mission grow stronger and advance to the next level, under our ceaseless action and that of the living Master, whose power is being exercised to our liking for the general good."
