Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, October 25, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

We have not chosen you in vain – do not feel embarrassed by these words – very fortunately, we know what we are doing. Channelling is one of the aspects in this matter; long-standing bonds of the heart give the messages a unique vibration. Some beings perceive it, as they have a sensitivity suited to such phenomena, allowing them a more in-depth approach to our intentions and a special transmission. This kind of action is very subtle. Today's humans are far from grasping the totality of the phenomena that surround them and that form human characteristics. The future will bring an expansion of consciousness that will bring human beings back to very ancient times when life here below was extremely subtle. Cycles have been occurring like this since the dawn of time and have in some cases faded from collective memory. So many incidents have occurred that would result in disturbing people instead of helping them. Logic would have what is most important come about, namely the elevation of beings, of the soul of each person, allowing them to face life as it will be in the future – very different at all levels from the life of today. Human beings will need to become stronger, to let go of what is unnecessary in order to enter a new phase of life in this world, geared towards a planned evolution that is necessary for the general good. This is how it is.
