Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 31, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This faith that is very much alive inside you has always been your strength in an incarnation fraught with incessant tests. There, that which must happen is accomplished. When suffering is endured with faith and a determination to face up to it, it becomes an unparalleled asset. Thus, the best is achieved. Each person has his or her own karma and must cope with it. A spiritual master, however great, is not spared, as history has so often shown. 'Doesn't everything have its raison d'être' — acceptance helps one to grow and understand the true meaning of life in all its subtleties. So many times the human being is helpless in the face of ordeals; no human being on Earth is exempt from them. The other kingdoms are not spared either. The sufferings of the animal and plant worlds are great, and moreover they are not understood by humans as they should be. The plant kingdom is the most helpless, having no means of expression that can be perceived by the human race.

"Courage and perseverance are major assets. When faith and spiritual commitment support a person on a daily basis, everything becomes more bearable, allowing each one to grow according to our wishes. These wishes are for the great number of our brothers and sisters who, more and more, are developing a beautiful aura on this way of the heart — a way whose effects are surely unique. This is how it is."
