Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 4, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

This multitude of messages is supported primarily by a love story that has been going on for a very long time, and it is not weakening — quite the contrary. Mediums are not lacking in the Mission, but what happens here is a different case altogether, one whose importance will be revealed over time. Do not be embarrassed; why wouldn't we say it, as so many abhyasis claim they communicate with us and receive messages. We have said often enough that imitators exist, and it seems that there are more and more of them, here and elsewhere; this oddity should be ignored once and for all. Our dear Kamlesh must be careful about it. There is still so much to do for humanity to progress and for humans to realise that they have a long road ahead of them, and that no time should be wasted in vain pursuits and superfluous antics.

"Here, we are working tirelessly for the good of this humanity that is in distress, more than it would seem. May all realise the need to move forward and produce, at their respective levels, the best that is possible. In this, faith and surrender are necessary; without them, nothing great and beautiful would be developed for the seeker, caught in the miasma of materiality.

"Endless blessings to all."
