Certain beings are sometimes caught in a game of illusion manifested by unscrupulous spirits capable of imitating spiritual Masters. We are not the first to suffer such things. Once again we can revert to the issue and reaffirm the authenticity of these writings, unlike those who claim to be inspired by the Masters and in possession of messages dictated by them. These messages here are quite unique, and we reaffirm it: concerning these messages, no successor has been identified in this very particular register. Egos are being expressed freely in the case of some of our brothers and sisters who let themselves be carried away by what they believe is right – without, alas, advancing in truth. It is disappointing that after so many years such things are still happening.

These messages, noted down here over a long period of time, are genuine; this does not need to be proven. What else can we say except to express our dismay about this matter. Life goes on here and elsewhere. One should go beyond the vicissitudes of this world, seeing only the beautiful, the real good in this humanity which, though adrift, nevertheless retains certain values among many human beings – faith, courage and a sincere commitment towards the Masters of the Mission carried by our dear Kamlesh, who will not be spared the dismaying behaviour of some abhyasis. It is up to him to be careful, with our full support.
