Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, November 6, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Life is never simple — this is nothing new. Since the earliest times, humans have had to struggle to survive and cope with incessant difficulties. Those who are most advanced in the evolutionary system find a rationale for that which characterises their karma. One's karma results from the accumulation of numerous lives in which all aspects of an incarnation are revealed, allowing one to cope and move forward at any cost. This labyrinth is accessible to humans, allowing them to evolve and develop themselves as they overcome the many trials that await them. Following a path indicates a certain progress. Not everyone is ready to take the step; such spiritual matters are beyond some people and do not interest them.

"Blessed are the pure in heart — so the saying goes — for they will see the light. We are delighted by these prospects. Here, all of us are working to that end: to bring our brothers and sisters to the most efficient and highest level they can access. Sahaj Marg has been defined over time as a simple path that is open to everyone and that has no undue constraints. Every soul longs for the Divine; each of its particles is imbued with the divine energy whose principles are very active. An evolved being fully benefits from the many assets of this energy, which are still, for the most part, very mysterious. Becoming one with this redeeming energy — there lies the ultimate goal for which we are ardently working, for the good of all our brothers and sisters.

"Special blessings to all."
