Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 11, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Over the years there have been so many contacts — here, the bonds of the heart are decisive. It is not merely about writing down a message; love generates and ennobles this task, making it unique among its kind. It will remain so over time, you can be sure, and enlightened minds will readily recognise it. It takes very little to distinguish these writings from others. Our dear Kamlesh appreciates them, and like his predecessor, he finds inspiration in them, quite naturally. The alliance of united Masters is attentive to him, even if it cannot fully spare him from the numerous vagaries of a Mission that is very demanding, but equally rewarding and even sanctifying. This role is not an insignificant one. So many souls are in need on other planes of consciousness and in this world; in both these areas, the unquenchable thirst for the Divine is constantly manifesting.

"Much remains to be achieved. Time must bring about that which is needed within the Mission for its fulfilment in the world. Beyond all social barriers and by divine will, that which must come about is being developed. In hindsight, the effects are quite striking, and they encourage us to continue in this direction with even greater strength and determination. May all our brothers and sisters fully realise what this Mission represents and adhere to it completely. What is being built here in the Mission will leave its mark on the world, and will do so for a very long time.

"Blessings to all, from the united Masters."
