Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 17, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Free yourself from the miasmas of this world; they bring heaviness to the space where we are able to express ourselves. Your heart is the sacred refuge where every day we step in to give these messages. Let us make it clear once again, they are the only ones of their kind, and for good reason.

This world is disconcerting; everything is always having to be redone. The role of our dear Kamlesh will not be easy. Time has multiplied the difficulties, but he will manage to handle the Mission's internal problems within the context of the countries where the Mission is established. Shying away is not the right approach; continuing soberly and effectively is the noblest and most constructive attitude. We support him at all levels. The world was built through effort, through difficulties of all kinds; good and evil have always coexisted. A spectacular advance will occur in the future; we support his action for good reason. He was not chosen in vain.

Again we come back to the fact that these messages are unique. More and more messages will spring up in this world, but they will not come from our source. Humanity is what it is. Many people are fooled by manifestations of the 'beyond', as you call it, though these are not genuine. Nothing is ever simple. Purity of heart is praiseworthy, and we know how to recognise it and make the most of it, as we have been doing here for so many years.

May all be carried, and so very blessed.
