Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 24, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Far from the ambient noise and disharmony in this world where confusion prevails all too often, there is a realm elsewhere, where calm and beauty pervade everything. Searching within oneself for this very special state, one in which the soul is delighted, is an indescribable blessing. Meditation provides for this. With a little perseverance and commitment, the abhyasi truly advances and is integrated into a system where evolution is accelerated, thus gaining precious time. Nothing should be neglected here below when dealing with this very special aspect of human nature. Noble and great souls become incarnate to help their fellow humans, of whom so many carry a heavy karma without any glimpse of hope. Everything has its purpose, and tests are truly necessary. It is not easy to conceive of this; only surrender allows for positive progress that is constructive at the level of the personality.

"Saving time — that is the aim. Following a spiritual path facilitates sure progress, helping one put limits where appropriate. It is not always easy to do so; for this, love and commitment towards the higher power help considerably. Everything becomes clearer, and with time, there is an understanding of what needs to be done to better integrate oneself in a system that is instructive and redeeming. Divine love is the true benefit here below. This love does not deceive. It leads the seeker where his or her soul longs to go in order to nourish itself on the divine essence. In this system, everything is done accordingly, with our blessings."
