Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 26, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

You know the refuge — it is there, always offered to a fervent heart that never fails to call upon it. That very special presence lies there, within, immutable and safe. It is the greatest asset of the human being, who ignores it most of the time. Will we manage to convince all our brothers and sisters about the importance of this connection with the spiritual Master, the Divine that inspires him and all the forces that come together to support this great spiritual movement — one that is suited to the current era? In time, it will have a significant place. It had a modest start and then gradually took its rightful place, as needed for a very special action aimed at helping our aspirants during these very difficult times. Energies are being disturbed, and the repercussions on human beings threaten the general balance. Following a spiritual path and practising on a regular basis enable, to some extent, the restoration of that which should be re-established. Humanity is suffering. Progress does not solve everything; it also has its drawbacks. Here, we are situated beyond the material plane, and each person's progress is particularly important to us. This path has come into being for that purpose: to bring another aspect to spirituality, one of simplicity and ease for all beings who aspire for the Divine. Such a demand exists and is not being met. Let us work unceasingly for the good of all, preparing a future that is more inviting in every respect.

"May all be enlightened and won over. Blessings."
