Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, December 1, 2015 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything that is done with love, as is the case here, is highly blessed. We express ourselves on a daily basis in order to reach the hearts of our brothers and sisters; received in that spirit, the messages operate at higher levels of consciousness. Beyond the words there is an uncommon vibration that characterises these writings. They are a true asset for our Mission, and this Mission will be recognised more and more, precisely by virtue of this unusual fact.

"Over time, our abhyasis are becoming more refined in their perception; they are more receptive to our comments which produce in them subtle effects that are favourable in terms of their benefits. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? We want the best for all. Over time we are witnessing the fulfilment of the effects of grace upon all these beings, our dear abhyasis who are confident in their practice and our action — one that is unprecedented in the history of spirituality. The new era that is dawning calls for a more targeted intervention upon human evolution. There is so much to do, specifically with regard to a spiritual process that operates at the level of the subtle bodies, as is the case in our system. We want the best for all; everyone receives according to their call — nothing can be forced. Nevertheless, our action achieves real benefits throughout this community of the heart. A day will come when everything will become clearer and perceptible to each one. The awakening of souls is being prepared, and we are actively contributing to it.

"May the best come true for all our brothers and sisters."
