Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 20, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

How can we resist the call of a heart as loving as yours, dear scribe! Time has not diminished this extraordinary love that binds you to our united hearts. We are all attentive to our brothers and sisters whose numbers are growing; we want to give them the best and facilitate their advancement towards the desired goal.

Each one has different expectations, but all aspire to reach the goal, the Ultimate, that which elevates the soul towards bliss. They will all attain it; perseverance is a precious tool, indispensable to any process. We are emphasising once again how necessary interiorisation is. There lies the secret refuge where each person can cultivate this asset that is so precious – namely, the divine energy in each of their cells, which reveals itself to the dedicated and fervent seeker. Science does not currently understand this very special treasure. Although very advanced, it does not specifically explore this field, which remains secret and so important for the elevation of the soul. A time will come when all these subtleties will be recognised and brought to light for a collective advancement, so beneficial for humanity.

Human beings are much too caught up and governed by the incessant, deadly hatreds that persist here below, in spite of an action wanted by all, for the good of so many brothers and sisters. May each of them cultivate within themselves this feeling of peace and general harmony, so as to establish here below a world in full expansion towards the good. Such are our most ardent wishes, supported by a substantial action.

So it is!
