Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, January 25, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

This long series of messages constitutes a real treasure, you can be sure. You were not chosen in vain; a very subtle bond unites you with the hearts of the Masters, through past lives with each one of us, and this constitutes a very special asset. One day you will understand all these reasons, when you come and join us. The future of the Mission is being shaped here, where we see it grow and establish itself definitively as a spiritual entity of great stature in this world of matter. Hyderabad, as we have often said, will become its high place, charged with a vibration capable of working wonders. We are already showering it with a great deal of attention.

Our dear, great son Kamlesh will make the necessary decisions to see that it becomes the sacred sanctuary of Sahaj Marg. In the future it will have a great impact in the world. After many changes here below, human beings will become different and they will approach spirituality differently than they do today. Minds are evolving towards the good despite all the grossness and unconsciousness of a great number of people who have not grasped the importance of a spiritual journey, one that can move them forward, for the common good. Everything in its own time. Let us consider only the essential: the ceaseless work of the Masters who are united in the service of a noble cause, that of human evolution.

Blessings to all.
