Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 27, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Let yourself be carried away in the manner you know so well; these mystical flights delight your heart and allow you access to ours each day.

The practice of Sahaj Marg opens the doors to this sacred space where the soul can be nourished by the substantial energy provided by our hearts, which are so attentive to this unique way.

We are monitoring the course of the incarnate spiritual Master, and for good reason as will be confirmed over time. Many changes will occur, allowing Sahaj Marg to substantially evolve in line with present and future times. The Alliance of Masters plans well in advance and focuses on not only the good of the Mission but also the good of all our brothers and sisters who are fully engaged in this way of the heart – a way that has not yet revealed all its possibilities.

This world will have to go through many trials to reach a more subtle level and finally feel the effects of divine grace. It is not easy to lead humanity towards the goodness that can enable a comprehensive and consistent evolution capable of changing the face of this world. Everything will be done in its own time. It requires preparation, and there lies the challenge. We are moving forward every day – in our own manner, yet one that brings about real changes. Even if they cannot be easily assessed, rest assured they are there. Committing oneself to this journey is already very positive; anything done with love and surrender to the living Master bears fruit and charts a luminous path that is rich in its effects.

Very special blessings to all.
