Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, February 10, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

A special energy emanates from these messages; many of our abhyasis feel it. Why would we have given so many of them if they were not special. They will remain unique, you can be sure of that. The journey of every human being must adapt to the laws of this world; karma is unavoidable. It is often referred to in Sahaj Marg for the very reason that it is crucial in many respects. Each incarnation provides the experiences human beings need to go through for their personal elevation. Laws that govern humanity are very complex, hence the need for surrender on this initiatory journey when the seeker has thus chosen it.

"Our abhyasis receive a basic teaching, one could say, and some of our books cover subtle aspects that can help them in their quest for the Divine. It is not always easy to integrate oneself in such a system beyond the rules defining the various aspects of the method. The human dimension has to be considered. Our path does not impose a way of thinking; it offers a method and a few rules to follow in order for one to adapt to this way of the heart and spirit — a way capable of producing beautiful results, which you yourselves will be able to actually assess. The living Master and the entire Hierarchy can do this, hence our constant action. We are encouraged by the benefits resulting from this continual work.

"To all, peace and fervour through this rather remarkable action that offers the best that can be, under our blessings."
