Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 20, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

All of us here are following the messages, and we participate in our own manner in their preparation. This Mission is so dear to us, as are each of our abhyasis, especially when they call us strongly. All of them have their own trials, needs, and states of mind. Following a spiritual path cannot resolve everything, but we are guiding them effectively in this approach – one that helps them, you can be sure, and above all saves them precious time. A life is short in the face of eternity, and each life, however short, brings a valuable element.

Karma is indefinable in its effects; it manifests the divine laws in minute detail, and without fail.

It has been said so often that everything has its raison d'être; how could a human being understand and easily accept all the trials he or she must go through over the course of an incarnation.

The Masters cannot resolve everything; they support the incarnate Master in this heavy task he is taking on under their ceaseless blessings. Such a grace is not commonplace; the attainment of such a special state as characterises him deserves the love and respect of our brothers and sisters. Thus is created this sacred egregore, indefinable here, yet of major importance. Understanding how necessary it is to work towards an elevation of the soul indicates a precious attainment. This lights the path, defines it, and fortifies the aspirant in this ultimate quest towards divine splendour.

It must be said again, and repeated endlessly, how very precious this commitment is. It brings the soul to its highest destiny – the most beautiful.

This is how it is.
