Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 27, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

We are attentive to the journey of each of our abhyasis, in addition to carrying out a global action that benefits the entire Sahaj Marg Mission. The Mission forms a whole, a force which our brothers and sisters are not truly aware of. Nevertheless, they benefit from it at the subtlest level, where the very special asset of this spiritual journey is established. How can one evaluate what is really being done at this level? In this, trust in the power of the Masters and their concerted action, supplemented by that of the living Master, fosters a special state necessary for the evolution of an aspirant. True surrender, so highly advocated here, enables real progress; if it did not exist, progress would be more limited.

"Each person advances according to his or her own call. Nothing is ever forced. A soul, like the most beautiful flowers in the world, blossoms at its own pace in order to become only more beautiful. As the Mission advances and grows in strength and wisdom, we can observe its impact where least expected. Time does its work. It is very gratifying to see this, and to strive more than ever to strengthen an impulse of the heart that is so decisive in this unparalleled path. Following this way is surely a very good investment.

"May all be strengthened in their quest for the Divine, and may all be blessed."
