Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, April 8, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages are more important than they may seem. They are an emanation from our hearts united in an extraordinary action. This action has its source in India, the country chosen by the Grand Masters, for good reason. Time will confirm these statements. This action projects upon the world an energy whose very special vibration is capable of generating the best in the many hearts calling for it. This aspiration for the Divine will grow in the future; the time will come when this need arises naturally, in conformity with a global evolution of human beings in response to the new era. Everything is very slow here below, but it can all change quickly, too, in order to adapt to the vibratory movement of the elements of this created world in perpetual motion. The divine energy imposes its law, which is beyond human comprehension; so many phenomena remain unknown, completely escaping human imagination.

In this field of spirituality, other rules apply: purity of heart, surrender, and steadiness in the practice. In this realm a sacred space is created in each person, where the best can be accomplished. The need for such action is projected on the life path of each one. Karma, as it is called, establishes the rules of life for all. Nothing is in vain, everything is counted and cannot remain hidden from this power, so decisive for the future of humanity.

Rest assured, everything will change. You are all engaged in this path of the heart, you could not do better. It's up to each one to act, supported by our care.
