Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 9, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

One incarnation prepares for the next; the links of the chain become stronger over time to consolidate this long lineage, necessary for the journey of a soul. It takes so much suffering, so many experiences and multiple tests to reach a satisfactory state of consciousness capable of fulfilling the deep aspirations of the soul.

Following a true spiritual path, one that is capable of simplifying this ultimate quest, allows one to save valuable time. In this most mysterious 'heart', the main thing is accomplished: the progress of the Being – there lies the wealth that is so very precious, the divine energy in each and every one of its cells. Science does not yet grasp this personal resource very well. Every human being possesses this treasure – how can we get all of our brothers and sisters to accept and understand this? Places of contemplation foster true progress; interiorisation and silence promote inner peace, that in which the soul is enraptured, progressing on its journey towards the Eternal.

Deep and true joy manages to soothe the soul. In this sacred space the marvel is built up: the union of the soul with this sublime energy, divine in its reality.

The practice of Sahaj Marg greatly facilitates this progress. This mysterious cocoon of energy transforms the being in its entirety, down to the most secret recesses of the soul in its primary essence. The divine energy can accomplish miracles. In certain circumstances, everyday life demonstrates this; nothing is insignificant, all is counted.

Cultivating love within oneself leads to serenity, to total surrender, followed by the best that can be.

Blessings to all.
