Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 20, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages will become more important over time; you can be sure that they were not given in vain. As we have already said, they will be a precious asset in the future.

Why would thousands of these writings exist if they were not very important for our Mission! The future will justify these words. So many changes will occur in this world; reference points will be necessary for humans in order to allow them to follow the course of their lives.

Sahaj Marg will unite, in a certain manner, beings who are committed to this system; beyond any borders, there will remain that which constitutes the very essence of a spirituality operating for the good of all. May there be peace in everyone. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? Trials, joys and diverse torments are among the elements of a life. No life escapes the law of Karma, which is decisive in each incarnation. The unity of Sahaj Marg is important; it is its strength and greatly increases its action in hearts. All this is not visible to human eyes, yet the work that takes place in Sahaj Marg merits attention once again. A life is short in the face of eternity, but every link in the chain deserves particular attention, an action that is salutary and constructive for the best. The Mission forms a coherent whole that is increasingly strong, supported by the unprecedented action of the powers that guide it. Everything is as it is meant to be, and what must be will be.

Endless blessings to all.
