Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 30, 2016 – 9:45 a.m.

Relax and glide through this universe of beauty where your heart exalts in loving us. Here it gives its full measure, and an extraordinary love carries it on this anniversary day where it is enchanted by this very special vibration. This contact is not ordinary. It cannot really be described, but we wish something more to emanate from this message, something able to touch many beings who are carried by a particular state of receptivity. As we have said enough, celebration days in our Mission are very beneficial for all. They raise the vibratory level and unite hearts in a special way, carrying them with our love, a fact that is not common for them in everyday life.

May they all devote enough time to this special day and benefit fully from it. One day, Sahaj Marg will amaze people by its development in the world and its effective action on the spiritual journey of each person.

So many beautiful souls are in need. In a certain way, they are ahead of the general level of spiritual evolution. Some pioneers are preparing the world of tomorrow. They are, in their own way, divine "envoys" whose mission is to position themselves accordingly and generate good vibrations that can, in their own way, purify the current atmosphere which is so disturbing for sensitive beings.

All our special blessings on this anniversary day. May all hearts be sensitive to it.
