Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 4, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Life follows its course through all the actions that it generates; movement is its very principle. Our Mission is no exception either. Everything moves and evolves according to the need of the moment and the absorption of hearts in this unique spiral. It attracts souls towards the light, that which is purifying and somehow deifying when one pursues the journey diligently, with faith and love. Such love does not disappoint; it elevates the entire being to its highest destiny. The number of souls united in this egregore is impressive. Its strength is growing, and its beauty too, since many souls are now reaching a very appreciable level. All the united Masters are happy with that, you can be sure. The time following seminars leads to a period of reflection, and on this occasion it is again very satisfying.

May the whole Mission continue to grow and become more beautiful at the subtlest level. We are working accordingly. This action is continuous and very potent, you can all be sure. Today's abhyasis also act for the future, and the Masters are grateful to them for that. A spiritual mission of such magnitude is not created in vain here below; we can see with happiness all those who are being transformed and attracting divine grace — can there be a nobler assessment than this!

We have entrusted this beautiful Mission to our great son, our very dear Kamlesh. He has embarked on a beautiful journey that will leave a very special mark on the Mission through his actions which are unprecedented in their creativity and magnitude. This makes us happy. We help him as best we can. He has our support and endless blessings.

Much love to all.
