Whispers from The Brighter World

Consider only the beautiful, the good — that which enraptures your heart and delights your soul, a soul that is so thirsty for heavenly fulfilment. These messages help much more than you think; you cannot imagine the benefits they provide. They will take on more and more importance in our Mission, you can be sure. Your isolation and your sufferings enable this work, which would not otherwise have the same scope or such an impact on our abhyasis. The Mission thus enjoys many benefits, as do the living Masters in their own manner.

Sahaj Marg is a coherent and effective whole, and its work has not finished expanding across the world. It meets the current needs of many beings who are thirsting for a highly redeeming energy. On the material plane, substantial efforts are required to establish such a work — one whose parameters will be specified over time and whose action will be refined, going beyond human imagination. Divine grace supports this Mission, which was thus wished for over a long period of time in order to meet current needs. Humanity is growing in number and in needs of every sort, but an immense void is created by a growing negativity that is destabilising for human beings. Rediscovering inner peace and harmony requires an action conducive to the development of the whole being, in which spirituality holds a prominent place.

Special blessings to all.
